

Minister calls for applications for RDA Chair positions across Australia by 3 November

Closing date has been extended to 3 November 2017

As follow up to the announcement in August of the new Charter for the RDA program and Committees, the Minister is seeking applications for nominations for the chair positions from 1 January, 2018. Current chairs whose terms are expiring and new applicants are invited to consider this opportunity.

The following advice has been received from the Department of Infrastructure and Regional Development.

Regional Development Australia (RDA) is seeking highly-motivated leaders with vision, drive, and strong ties to their region to volunteer to Chair their local RDA Committee.

RDA Committees are vital promoters for their region. They bring together private business and all levels of government with regional communities to build and drive economic growth.

Applications are sought from business and community leaders who have a proven track record of achieving meaningful outcomes in a complex environment.

Women, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, people with diverse cultural backgrounds, and people with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

For more information including the role description and how to apply, please visit www.rda.gov.au.

You can contact the RDA team via phone 1800 505 938 (Mon–Fri 9am-5pm AEDT) or email rdaapplications@infrastructure.gov.au.

Applications close on 3 November 2017.
